

Christine Montanti, Photography by Don Fitzgibbon

Fall in New York City is a picturesque and magical time of year. Aside from the delightful temperatures and breathtaking foliage, there are countless ways to enjoy the pleasures of this spectacular season. The activities during the fall in this iconic city are endless. From time spent in scenic parks enjoying the changing leaves with stunning shades of yellow, red, and orange, to daily excursions including festivals, parades, street fairs and assorted other events, NYC during the autumn season will undoubtedly create a memorable experience.

One of the main events marking the transition from summer to fall in Manhattan is New York Fashion Week where international brands showcase their collections to the public. In this issue, we feature a new contemporary resort-ready clothing brand, Kyle and Shahida that was launched during NYFW by the dynamic American actress Kyle Richards and fashion designer Shahida Clayton. The colorful collection, inspired by nature and wildlife and featuring bold prints, was one of the most talked about runway events having more stars both walking and seated in the audience, than any other fashion show.

Aside from NYC's luxury brand shopping, chic restaurants, and extraordinary entertainment, autumn activities in New York City are incomparable. From festivals such as the Feast of San Gennaro, the New York Film Festival, the New York Comedy Festival, and New York Comic Con, to various parades such as the Village Halloween Parade and the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, the city that never sleeps does not disappoint.

Don't forget to visit one of the many parks in the Big Apple such as the world-renowned Central Park, the lovely Prospect Park, or the High Line- an exquisite park running above the streets in NYC; each has its own charm and history. Perhaps, you might want to engage in something a little more physical like ice skating at Rockefeller Center or running in the New York City Marathon. Whatever activities or entertainment you choose, whether you are vacationing or are one of New York City's 8 million residents, this amazing city has indescribable charm offering an enchanting fall experience that is simply unforgettable!

Warm wishes,

Christine Montanti

Christine Montanti

Christine Montanti, Kyle Richards, and Shahida Clayton.
Photography by Don Fitzgibbon