It is hard to believe Labor Day weekend has arrived marking the end to the Hamptons summer season because it feels like just yesterday, we kicked off Memorial Day weekend. Every-day spent among family and friends in the Hamptons is truly a gift, and residents and visitors alike continue to relish the countless activities, the pristine ocean beaches, and the natural beauty of the East End's landscape

In this issue, we feature the Bridgehampton Child Care and Recreational Center, a non-profit organization that serves underprivileged African American and Latino children and families in Bridgehampton as well as surrounding communities on the East End. Needless to say, I was extremely impressed by the devotion of the Executive Director Bonnie Michelle Cannon and her commitment to helping her students achieve not only educational, but also personal success; she is truly an incredible woman. I invite everyone to read the Center's inspiring story found on the pages of this Labor Day Issue; it is one which reveals a day-care-center and the powerful impact it has on its students.

Fall will soon be upon us, and is one of the most beautiful, magical times of year on the East End. Enjoy your Labor Day weekend. I am looking forward to connecting with you soon again!

Warm wishes,
